INTRODUCTION

The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (P.L. 100–690) amends and reauthorizes a number of existing programs and establishes several new programs to assist State and local anti-drug efforts.

The Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control has compiled this guide to assist Members of Congress in responding to requests for information about sources of Federal funds for drug abuse prevention and control activities provided in the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988. This guide includes information on the major anti-drug grant programs administered by the Departments of Justice, Education, Health and Human Services and ACTION. It also includes additional Federal and State sources to contact for further information about, and applications for, these programs. A brief overview of the development of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 and summaries of the Act's provisions and funding are also included for convenient reference.

We hope you will find this guide to be a useful directory to programs for State and local anti-drug assistance under the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988.

In compiling this guide, the Select Committee received excellent cooperation from many individuals in the Federal departments and agencies who provided information on the grant programs they administer. The Committee wishes to express our sincere appreciation for this assistance.

Drug Control and System Improvement Grant Program

FACT SHEET

The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (Pub. L. 100-690) was signed into law on November 18, 1988. The Drug Control and System Improvement Grant Program, Title VI, Subtitle C of the Act, provides funds to assist states and units of local government in carrying out specific programs which offer a high probability of improving the functioning of the criminal justice system and to enhance drug control efforts at the state and local levels.

Legislatively Authorized Program Purposes

The Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) is authorized to make grants to states, for use by states and units of local government, for the purpose of enforcing state and local laws which establish offenses similar to offenses established in the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 801 et seq.) and to improve the functioning of the criminal justice system, with emphasis on violent crime and serious offenders. Grants may provide personnel, equipment, training, technical assistance and information systems for the more widespread apprehension, prosecution, adjudication and detention and rehabilitation of persons who violate such laws, and may provide assistance to the victims of such crimes (other than compensation), including the following programs:

1. Demand reduction education programs in which law enforcement officers participate;

2. Multijurisdictional task force programs which integrate Federal, state and local drug law enforcement agencies and prosecutors for the purpose of enhancing interagency coordination and intelligence and facilitating multijurisdictional investigations;

3. Programs designed to target the domestic sources of controlled and illegal substances, such as precursor chemicals, diverted pharmaceuticals, clandestine laboratories and cannabis cultivations;

4. Community and neighborhood programs which assist citizens in preventing and controlling crime, including special programs which address the problems of crimes committed against the elderly and special programs for rural jurisdictions;

5. Disrupting illicit commerce in stolen goods and property;

6. Improving the investigation and prosecution of white-collar crime, organized crime, public corruption crimes and fraud against the government with priority attention to cases involving drug-related official corruption;

7. a. Improving the operational effectiveness of law enforcement through the use of crime analysis techniques, street sales enforcement, schoolyard violator programs and gang-related and low-income housing drug control programs.

   b. Developing and implementing antiterrorism plans for deep draft ports, international airports and other important facilities;

8. Career criminal prosecution programs, including the development of model drug control legislation;

9. Financial investigative programs which target the identification of money laundering operations and assets obtained through illegal drug trafficking, including the development of proposed model legislation, financial investigative training and financial information sharing systems;

10. Improving the operational effectiveness of the court process, such as court delay reduction programs and enhancement programs;

11. Programs designed to provide additional public correctional resources and improve the corrections system, including treatment in prisons and jails, intensive supervision programs and long-range corrections and sentencing strategies;

12. Providing prison industry projects designed to place inmates in a realistic working and training environment which will enable them to acquire marketable skills and to make financial payments for restitution to their victims, for support of their own families and for support of themselves in the institution;

13. Providing programs which identify and meet the treatment needs of adult and juvenile drug-dependent and alcohol-dependent offenders;

14. Developing and implementing programs which provide assistance to jurors and witnesses and assistance (other than compensation) to victims of crime;

15. a. Developing programs to improve drug control technology, such as pretrial drug testing programs, programs which provide for the identification, assessment, referral to treatment, case management and monitoring of drug-dependent offenders and enhancement of state and local forensic laboratories.

   b. Criminal justice information systems to assist law enforcement, prosecution, courts and corrections organizations (including automated fingerprint identification systems);

16. Innovative programs which demonstrate new and different approaches to enforcement, prosecution and adjudication of drug offenses and other serious crimes;

17. Addressing the problems of drug trafficking and the illegal manufacture of controlled substances in public housing;

18. Improving the criminal and juvenile justice system's response to domestic and family violence, including spouse abuse, child abuse and abuse of the elderly;

19. Drug control evaluation programs which state and local units of government may utilize to evaluate programs and projects directed at state drug control activities;

20. Providing alternatives to prevent detention, jail and prison for persons who pose no danger to the community; and

21. Programs of which the primary goal is to strengthen urban enforcement and prosecution efforts targeted at street drug sales.

Formula Grant Program

Funding: 80 percent of the total funds appropriated in any fiscal year will be distributed under the formula grant program. Each state will receive a base amount of $500,000 with the remaining funds allocated to each state on the basis of the state's relative share of total U.S. population.

State Office: The chief executive of each participating state shall designate a State Office to administer the program and to coordinate the distribution of funds with state agencies receiving Federal funds for drug abuse education, prevention, treatment and research activities and programs. An office or agency performing other functions within the state's executive branch may be designated as the State Office.

Administrative Funds: Up to 10 percent of the formula grant funds allocated to a state may be used to pay for costs incurred in administering the formula grant program.

Matching Requirements: For Fiscal Year 1989 appropriations at least 25 percent of the cost of a program or project must be paid with non-Federal funds. For Fiscal Year 1990 and subsequent year appropriations at least 50 percent of the cost of a program or project must be paid with non-Federal funds. The non-Federal share shall be in cash. Funds provided for match must be in addition to funds which would otherwise be made available by the recipients for criminal justice programs. Match will be provided on a project-by-project basis.

Passthrough: Local units of government must receive a share of the state's formula grant funds which is equal to the ratio of local criminal justice expenditures to the total criminal justice expenditures for the state.

Funding Priority: In distributing funds, the state shall give priority to those jurisdictions with the greatest need.

Period of Project Support: Projects funded under the formula grant program may be funded for a maximum of four years (48 months) in the aggregate, including any occurring before the effective date of this Act.

Construction: Grant funds may be used for construction of penal and correctional institutions only. Acquisition of land with grant funds is prohibited.

Statewide Strategy: Each state is required to develop a statewide strategy to improve the functioning of the criminal justice system, with an emphasis on drug trafficking, violent crime and serious offenders. The strategy shall be prepared after consultation with state and local officials, particularly those whose duty it is to enforce drug and criminal laws and direct the administration of justice.

Discretionary Grant Program

Funding: 20 percent of the total allocation is reserved for the Discretionary Grant Program, which will be used to enhance, coordinate and address needs in state and local drug control and system improvement efforts through national and multistate programs.

Eligibility: Public and private agencies and private, nonprofit organizations are eligible to apply for and receive funds under this program.

Match: Grants may be made for up to 100 percent of the costs of an approved project.

Program Priorities: Program announcements and requests for proposals are published in the Federal Register. The FY 1989 announcement was published on January 9, 1989. Copies of the FY 1989 Program Announcement are also available from BJA.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

JAN 31 1989

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION PROGRAMS
DRUG-FREE SCHOOLS AND COMMUNITIES ACT

On October 27, 1986, President Reagan signed the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986 (P.L. 99-570) into law. This legislation was subsequently amended by P.L. 100-297: The Hawkins/Stafford Elementary and Secondary School Improvement Amendments of 1988 and reenacted as Title V of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA). The Department of Education is responsible for administering Title V of ESEA, as amended by the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-690). The major components of the Department's programs and points of contact are listed below. Those programs which are asterisked are the discretionary grants programs administered by the Department.

State and Local Grants Program: This is a formula grant program which allocates funds to States based on school-age population. Each State's allocation is divided between the State educational agency (70%) and the Office of the Governor (30%). The SEA must allot at least 90 percent of the funds it receives to local education agencies to improve anti-drug abuse education, prevention, early intervention, and rehabilitation referral programs. The Governor provides financial support for anti-drug abuse efforts to community-based organizations. At least 50% of the Governor's funds must be used for programs for high-risk youth. Funds for FY 88 were available July 1, 1988, and all awards have been made to the States and Territories. Allocation information for FY 89 will be sent to Governors and Chief State School Officers in February 1989. Awards will be made in July 1989. There are contacts in each State for the programs funded through the Governor's office and programs funded through the SEA (Allen King, 732-4599).

Audiovisual Grants Program: Eight awards were made in December 1987, to develop and distribute audiovisual materials to elementary and secondary schools for drug abuse education and prevention activities. These materials are close-captioned videotapes with brief teacher guides. The first tapes were distributed to schools in September 1988. Copies of these films have been sent to all the Nation's school districts and are also available from the National Clearinghouse for Alcohol and Drug Information, the National Audio-Visual Center, and from each of the Regional Centers (Charlotte Gillespie, 732-3030).

 Grants for Institutions of Higher Education (IHEs): Responsibility for the implementation of this program is divided between the Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education (FIPSE) and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Staff in the Office of Elementary and Secondary Education (OESE). FIPSE made ninety-two grants in FY 87 to institutions of higher education to develop, operate, implement, and improve drug education and prevention programs for students enrolled in institutions of higher education. One hundred and one grants were awarded in September. Application materials are available for the FY 89 cycle, the deadline for applications is March 1, and awards will be made by July 1989 (Ron Bucknam, 732-5750). OESE has responsibility for awarding grants to support preservice or inservice personnel training or demonstration programs in drug and alcohol abuse education and prevention for use in elementary and secondary schools. Forty-two grants were awarded in May of 1988. Application materials for the FY 89 cycle are currently available. Deadline for applications is February 6, and awards are scheduled to be made by May 1989 (Allen King, 732-4599).

Programs for Indian Youth: This program is administered under a Memorandum of Understanding between the Departments of Education and Interior. Anti-alcohol and drug abuse education and prevention services will be provided to Indian children on reservations attending elementary and secondary schools which are operated by the Bureau of Indian Affairs (Allen King, 732-4599).

Programs for Native Hawaiians: The Governor of Hawaii designates organizations to receive funds for drug prevention and education activities. The organizations which are eligible are those that primarily serve and represent Hawaiian natives. The Kamehameha Schools received a three-year grant in FY 87 under this program (Allen King, 732-4599).

Regional Centers Program: The Department of Education has awarded five cooperative agreements to fulfill the requirements of the Act. The law authorizes the Department to support these regional centers to: (1) train school teams to assess and combat drug and alcohol abuse problems, (2) assist State educational agencies in coordi- nating and strengthening alcohol and drug abuse education and prevention programs, (3) assist local educational agencies and institutions of higher education in developing training programs for educational personnel, and (4) evaluate and disseminate information on effective substance abuse, education prevention programs and strategies.

A portion of the funds under the Regional Centers Program has been set aside for a project to provide support to the five regional centers in carrying out their responsibilities.

Activities for this project include collecting and disseminating information on regional center activities, collecting and disseminating information on model alcohol and drug education and prevention activities, providing technical assistance to the centers in carrying out their responsibilities, and coordinating and supporting national workshops and conferences (Allen King, 732-4599).

Educational Personnel Training Program: This is a new program authorized under the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988. The purpose of this program is to provide financial assistance to State educational agencies, local educational agencies, and institutions of higher education to establish, expand, or enhance programs and activities for the training of teachers, administrators, guidance counselors, and other educational personnel on drug and alcohol abuse education and prevention. Funded programs must be coordinated through the State agency for higher education or State educational agency, as appropriate, and must be coordinated with the activities of the Regional Centers for Drug-Free Schools and Communities. Application materials will be available in late March 1989. The deadline for applications is the end of May 1989, and awards will be made by September 1989 (Allen King, 732-4599).

Federal Activities: The Department is supporting a number of projects in this category.

 o Drug-Free Schools and Communities Staff in the Office of Elementary and Secondary Education under its Federal Activities Grants Program supports model development, dissemination, technical assistance, and curriculum development activities for drug and alcohol abuse education and prevention. Thirty-eight awards were made in FY 87 to State educational agencies, local educational agencies, institutions of higher education, and other nonprofit agencies, organizations, and institutions. Thirteen awards were announced in May of 1988. The deadline for applications for the FY 89 cycle was January 23 and awards will be made by May 1989 (Allen King, 732-4599).

o The Challenge is the Department's program to encourage individual schools and school districts to sign a pledge with representatives of school, home, and community to initiate or sustain a program based on the twelve principles in the handbook, Schools Without Drugs, to keep their schools drug-free and to become part of a national network of drug-free schools. As of January 19th, 6,430 schools and 574 school districts are members (Annora Dorsey, 732-4161).

- The Challenge Newsletter is the Department's bi-monthly newsletter which highlights successful programs, provides the latest research on effective prevention measures, and answers questions about school-based efforts. The newsletter is distributed to superintendents, principals, and parent groups across the country (Charlotte Gillespie, 732-3030).

- The Department of Education works with the Department of Health and Human Services to support the National Clearinghouse for Alcohol and Drug Information. The Clearinghouse staff responds to requests from schools for information and materials on drugs and prevention strategies, drug education curricula, model drug education programs, and referrals for assistance and resources (Charlotte Gillespie, 732-3030).

- Schools Without Drugs is in its third printing--more than 2 million copies have been distributed to date.

- The Office of Educational Research and Improvement (OERI) supports three initiatives designed to increase the amount of information available about drug abuse education and prevention

  - Drug-Free School Recognition Program. The Drug-Free School Recognition Program operates in a manner similar to the Department's Elementary and Secondary School Recognition Programs, though it receives guidance from an advisory group consisting of experts in the area of drug and alcohol prevention. Applications from nominated schools are reviewed by an appropriate panel, and those schools or programs selected for recognition are honored at ceremonies in Washington, D.C. This school year is the second year of the Drug-Free School Recognition program. In addition, the Department of Education, in conjunction with the five regional centers, sponsored five regional Drug-Free Schools Conferences which were held across the country in the fall of 1988. It is anticipated that similar meetings will be held during the fall of 1989 (Nelson Smith, 357-6191).

  - Network of Drug-Free Colleges. OERI is supporting development of a national network of colleges committed to eliminating drug abuse on their campuses. Initial networking efforts focused on four year residential colleges so that information on comparable problems may be shared. The Network was formed during the '87-'88 school year, and a National Forum for Drug-Free Colleges was held on October 26-28, 1988. Over seven hundred and fifty colleges and universities have joined the Network (Vonnie Veltri, 357-6265).

- Drug Abuse Curricula Criteria. OERI has developed, produced, and disseminated a guide to help school building and school district staff select and implement substance abuse curricula in elementary and secondary schools. This guide is now available, from the National Clearinghouse for Alcohol and Drug Information (Nelson Smith, 357-6187).

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES
ALCOHOL, DRUG ABUSE AND MENTAL HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Services Block Grant

The Comprehensive Alcohol Abuse, Drug Abuse and Mental Health Amendments Act of 1988, included in Title II, Subtitle A of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (Public Law 100-690), amends the Public Health Service Act (Title XIX, Part B) by reauthorizing and extending the Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Services (ADMS) Block Grant.

The Federal agency responsible for this program is the Department of Health and Human Services, Public Health Service, Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration (ADAMHA).

The purpose of the ADMS Block Grant is to provide financial assistance to States and territories to support projects for the development of effective prevention, treatment, and rehabilitation programs and activities to deal with alcohol and drug abuse; to prevent the transmission of the etiologic agent for acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) by enhancing the capacity to treat intravenous drug abusers; to support community mental health centers for the provision of services to the mentally ill; to provide specialized services for seriously emotionally disturbed children and adolescents; to provide services designed for women (especially pregnant women and women with dependent children); and to conduct data collection and health services research on alcohol, drug abuse, and mental health disorders (with funding "tapped" from the Block Grant) to enhance knowledge and improve effectiveness of services.

The Block Grant mechanism was originally established by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981 which allowed the States greater flexibility in controlling resources and addressing service needs within the State. States, in turn, contract with approved providers for the direct provision of services at the local level. The Federal Government retains responsibility for assuring State compliance with the Block Grant legislative requirements and for providing technical assistance.

For fiscal year (FY) 1989, Congress appropriated $805,594,000 for the ADMS Block Grant. Of this amount, ADAMHA has "tapped," or reserved, five percent for data collection and health services research as required by law. The amount remaining for grants to States for fiscal year 1989 is $765,314,000. A table showing State allocations for FY 1989 is included. On November 23, 1988, letters were sent to the States from the ADAMHA Administrator requesting applications for FY 1989 funds.

Public Law 100-690 consolidated funds previously provided to the States through the ADMS Block Grant and the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Treatment and Rehabilitation (ADTR) Block Grant, and added $125 million in new funding to be used for substance abuse services, with 50 percent of the monies to be used to carry out programs of treatment for intravenous drug abusers. To provide more equitable distribution of Block Grant funds, the new legislation also contains a new congressionally-mandated allocation formula which utilizes urban population, age-weighted program factors, and Total Taxable Resources in a State. A previously used provision to allocate funds, based in part on pre-1981 distribution factors (called a "hold harmless" provision), will be phased out over a 4-year period beginning with FY 1989.

For further information on the availability of ADMS Block Grant monies, individuals and groups seeking such funds should contact the State alcohol, drug abuse, and mental health authority in their State. A list of these State contacts is included.

If you have any questions on the Federal role in the Block Grant, please contact Mr. Gary S. Palsgrove, Senior Advisor for Block Grants, ADAMHA, on (301) 443-3820.

ALCOHOL, DRUG ABUSE AND MENTAL HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

Drug Abuse Treatment Waiting List Reduction Grant Program

Purpose.

Section 509E of the Public Health Service Act, as added by section 2053 of Public Law 100-690, the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988, authorizes $100 million in grants to expand drug abuse treatment capacity and thereby reduce the time individuals must wait to be admitted to treatment. $75 million is appropriated for grants in FY 1989; the remaining $25 million is in President Bush's FY 1990 budget request.

Who is eligible?

Public and private non-profit drug abuse treatment programs that meet four statutory criteria: (1) experience in drug abuse treatment; (2) success in carrying out programs approved by the State; (3) have individuals who have waited for treatment more than 30 days; and (4) have access to financial resources to sustain expanded capacity beyond the one year grant period.

What types of treatment will be funded?

All modalities of drug abuse treatment are eligible for funding, except for inpatient hospital services (excluded by statute).

Are alcohol abuse treatment programs eligible for funding?

The statute states that waiting lists must be for drug abuse treatment. Individuals admitted for drug abuse treatment that also require alcohol abuse services may be counted and the cost of providing such treatment as a secondary diagnosis may be reimbursed under the grant program.

What programs will receive funding priority?

Programs are encouraged to apply for grants through State drug abuse authorities as part of a State "umbrella" application to assure that funds are targeted on programs the State has identified as having the most need. Programs that are part of a State umbrella application, have the greatest number of individuals awaiting admission for the longest time, propose the greatest number of new treatment slots, and have the strongest evidence of continued financial support will receive priority consideration for funding.

When will awards by made?

The program announcement was published in the Federal Register of February 24, 1989, beginning at p. 7990. Over 5000 announcements were mailed to individual drug abuse programs and State authorities simultaneous with the published announcement. The application period closes on June 1 and awards will be announced in September. Eligible programs that do not rank high enough to receive FY 89 funds may receive FY 90 funds if appropriated.

ALCOHOL, DRUG ABUSE AND MENTAL HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

Community Youth Activity Program

Section 3521 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-690) authorizes a new Community Youth Activity Program.

The Act authorizes $40 million for fiscal year 1989, $55 million for fiscal year 1990, $60 million for fiscal year 1991, $66.55 million for fiscal year 1992, and $73.205 million for fiscal year 1993 to carry out the program.

For 1989, only $15 million was appropriated.

This program has three components: (1) a Block Grant Program for States; (2) a Demonstration Grant Program, which is a competitive program limited to the 50 States, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico; and (3) contract authority for Programs of National Significance.

The Block Grant Program is being administered by the Alcohol, Drug Abuse and Mental Health Administration (ADAMHA). Information on this program is included in the pages that immediately follow. On January 3, 1989, ADAMHA sent letters to the States announcing the Block Grant Program and inviting applications. A copy of this letter is included.

The Office of Substance Abuse Prevention (OSAP) is administering the Demonstration Grant Program and the Programs of National Significance. Information about these two programs is included in the OSAP section of this guide at pages 73 through 76.

SAMPLE

Dear Governor Hunt:

My purpose in writing you is to invite you to apply for your State's fiscal year (FY) 1989 grant under the Community Youth Activity Program (CYAP) Block Grant Program recently created by the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-690), enacted on November 18, 1988. Congress has appropriated $3,562,500 to be distributed equally among the "States" (i.e., the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico), and $71,250 which will be distributed equally among Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands (TTPI). Thus, each State may receive $63,509 and each of the five named Territories $14,250. The allotment for the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands will be further allotted by population as follows: Federated States of Micronesia - $9,110, Republic of the Marshall Islands - $3,740, Republic of Palau-$1,400.

For your information, we are including a copy of Section 3[illegible]1 of P.L. 100-690 which established this program. You will note that this is a drug abuse prevention rather than substance abuse prevention program. That is, activities and projects targeted primarily to alcohol abuse would not be eligible for funding under the CYAP Program. Please also note that the funds received may only be spent on direct activities; no amount may be deducted by the State/Territory to cover the costs of administration.

In order for your State/Territory to receive an allotment under this noncompetitive Block Grant Program, it will not be necessary to use any standard Federal application form. Rather, a simple narrative approach which satisfies the requirements for a complete application, as specified in P.L. 100-690, will be sufficient. The only requirements we are imposing, in addition to those in the statute, are that the application include a designation of the Government Agency to receive and administer the award and be signed by you as Chief Executive Officer. You may, however, specify that any applications for future years may be submitted over the signature of the Chief Executive Officer of the Agency initially designated by you.

The specific requirements for the content of an application are as follows. The application should briefly (but sufficiently) --

1. Demonstrate the State's/Territory's need for community services and partnerships to develop community activities targeted at youth drug abuse prevention through education, training, and recreation projects or other projects or activities that are consistent with these activities or projects. Such services may be provided by, and such partnerships may be entered into with --

   (A) local educational agencies;

   (B) law enforcement agencies;

   (C) community-based organizations;

   (D) community action agencies;

   (E) local or State recreation agencies;

   (F) business organizations; and in consultation with local and State health departments and with community health or mental health centers, when appropriate.

2. Provide a description of those activities and projects that will receive financial assistance from the CYAP block grant consistent with the activities and projects in paragraph 1. above. Assistance (e.g., subgrants) may be provided by you to any entity described in 1.(A) - (F) above, either individually or in partnership. (Applications submitted by such entities to you for such assistance shall include a description of the method to be used to evaluate the impact the particular service or partnership is intended to have on the drug abuse problem within the community.)

3. Describe the method to be used in evaluating the impact which block grant funded activities and programs have on the drug abuse problem within the communities in which such activities and projects are carried out. (You will be asked to provide us with a copy of the evaluation at the end of the grant.)

4. Specify the name and complete mailing address of the governmental agency to which the award is to be made. In addition, please specify the name and phone number of an individual to whom questions may be directed.

Amounts received must be obligated by you by the end of the Federal fiscal year (September 30, 1989) and all such obligations liquidated by December 31, 1989. Accordingly, the completed application should be signed by the Chief Executive Officer (e.g., Governor) of the State/Territory and forwarded as soon as possible to:

Mr. Thomas M. Reynolds
Division of Grants and
Contracts Management, ADAMHA
Room 13C-20
Rockville, Maryland 20857

(Forwarding the application to any other addressee results in processing delays.)

Demonstration Grants of National Significance

Legislative Authorization: Section 509G of the Public Health Service Act as added by Section 2055 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-690).

Funding: The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 appropriated $10 million for Demonstration Grants of National Significance.

Of this amount, $6 million is being used by the National Institute on Drug Abuse for two grant programs described on pages 68 and 69.

The Office of Substance Abuse Prevention has been given $3 million which it is using with about $1.5 million of other funds available to the agency to operate a research demonstration program for pregnant and post partum women. This grant program is described on p. 72.

The remaining $1 million is being given to the National Institute on Justice to run a research demonstration grant on outreach efforts on IV drug abusers. The Memorandum of Understanding on this is not yet completed.

In addition, the National Institute on Drug Abuse is conducting an ongoing research demonstration program on outreach activities to intravenous drug abusers for the prevention of AIDS. This grant program is described on p. 70.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE ON DRUG ABUSE

Research demonstration program on the feasibility and efficacy of programs providing drug abuse treatment and vocational training in exchange for public service

Many drug abuse treatment programs now require patients to pay some portion of treatment costs. Since drug abusing individuals seeking treatment may often have financial and employment problems, this requirement may impose a barrier for many in need of drug treatment. Also, many of those needing treatment lack appropriate job skills and need vocational training. An alternative to requiring direct or third-party payment for treatment is to allow individuals to exchange public service for treatment coupled with appropriate vocational training.

NIDA will support research demonstration studies to investigate the feasibility and efficacy of programs providing drug abuse treatment and vocational training in exchange for public service. The public service should have practical significance for the drug abuser and the community, and ideally would integrate the drug abuser's vocational training, aptitude, and ability. The research should address questions such as the following: How effective is the public service mechanism in attracting individuals into treatment who would otherwise be unable to afford it? Does the vocational training improve employment prospects for those who receive it? Does vocational training or public service influence such factors as drug use, criminality, family stability, and psychological attitudes?

This announcement was published in the NIH Guide on February 10, 1989, and program guidelines and the Request for Applications are now available. Receipt date for applications will be April 24, 1989; awards are planned for September 30, 1989. The number assigned to this RFA is DA-89-03.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE ON DRUG ABUSE

Research demonstration program on the effectiveness of providing maternal care in drug abuse treatment to pregnant women, post-partum women, and their infants

The potential consequences of maternal drug abuse to offspring include retarded fetal growth, premature delivery, low birth weight, drug-specific neonatal withdrawal syndromes, poor motor control, learning difficulties, and abnormal environmental responses. Elimination or reduction in the maternal use of illicit drugs as a result of enrolling and retaining drug-abusing pregnant and post-partum women in drug abuse treatment may forestall such consequences, and providing medical care to these women should provide additional benefits.

Although drug-abusing childbearing women may be difficult to locate, enroll, and maintain in traditional drug abuse treatment programs, clinical studies have shown the importance of providing a continuum of care through therapeutic programs, comprehensive supportive services, and medical treatment.

NIDA will support controlled clinical studies to investigate the benefits of programs providing drug abuse treatment and maternal care services for drug-abusing pregnant and post-partum women and their infants. Of particular interest are research projects directed toward comprehensive programs that provide a continuum of prenatal and postnatal care, including detoxification or methadone maintenance, psychotherapy, social support activities, and general followup medical care for mother and infant. The research should address such questions as: Is the provision of prenatal and postnatal medical care in conjunction with drug treatment effective in attracting drug abusing women into treatment and retaining them in treatment? How does the provision of drug treatment, supportive services, and medical care influence the drug abusing woman and her infant with regard to such factors as drug use, physical health, lifestyle, family stability, and attitudes?

This announcement was published in the NIH Guide on February 10, 1989, and program guidelines and the Request for Applications are now available. Receipt date for applications will be April 24, 1989; awards are planned for September 30, 1989. The number assigned to this RFA is DA-89-03.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE ON DRUG ABUSE

Research Demonstration Program on Outreach Activities to Intravenous Drug Abusers for the Prevention of AIDS

Intravenous drug users comprise the second largest--and the most rapidly growing--group at risk for AIDS. It has been estimated that one-quarter of all diagnosed AIDS cases are intravenous drug users. Intravenous drug users are the primary link to two other groups at risk, namely heterosexual partners and children.

Drug abuse treatment is one method of preventing the spread of AIDS among intravenous drug users and thus reducing the chances of AIDS exposure. However, not all intravenous drug users are willing or able to enter treatment, and treatment settings may not be the best locations for intervening with the sexual partners of IV drug users. Consequently, NIDA has developed a research demonstration program targeted to intravenous drug abusers not in treatment and to their sexual partners. The focus of this nationally-coordinated AIDS research demonstration program is on outreach, counseling, education, HIV testing and counseling, and community involvement. The objective of the program is to assess the characteristics and risk-taking behaviors of the target populations and to evaluate the effectiveness of programs designed to change the behaviors that place IV drug users, their peers, and their sexual partners at risk for AIDS.

This Request for Applications was issued in January 1987. The number assigned to this RFA is DA-87-13.

HIGH RISK YOUTH DEMONSTRATION GRANT PROGRAM

Legislative Authorization: Section 509A of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986, (P.L. 99-570) and as amended by Section 2051 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-690).

Program Description: Approximately $7 million will be available to support approximately 30 - 35 grants under a new grant announcement for high risk youth.

OSAP seeks to fund proposals that describe comprehensive, multilevel prevention/intervention strategies (1) that are directed toward reducing clearly specified risk factors in high risk youth of specified developmental age groupings; or (2) that demonstrate effective comprehensive service systems directed at primary prevention and early intervention for high risk youth. Priority will be given to prevention as well as early intervention models that address specified risk factors for the use of alcohol and other drugs at the individual level as well as some risk factors associated with the environment in which such youth reside (e.g., family or significant others in the environment of such youth, peers, school and/or recreation environment, community and society). A strong evaluation component for both process and outcome evaluation is a grant requirement.

Any public or nonprofit private entity is eligible to apply for support under this announcement for up to 5 years to permit an adequate evaluation of the proposed interventions.

DEMONSTRATION GRANT PROGRAM FOR PREGNANT AND POSTPARTUM WOMEN AND THEIR INFANTS

Legislative Authorization: Sections 509F and 509G of the Public Health Service Act, as amended by adding Section 2054 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988, P.L. 100-690.

Program Description: Approximately $4.5 million will be available to support approximately 20 - 25 grants under a new grant announcement for model projects to educate, prevent, and treat substance use by pregnant and postpartum women and their infants. The Office of Maternal and Child Health (OMCH) has joined the Office for Substance Abuse Prevention (OSAP) in support of this grant program.

Applications may be submitted by public or private nonprofit or for-profit organizations providing prevention, early intervention and/or treatment services in community based, inpatient, outpatient or residential settings. Under this announcement applicants are encouraged to address the complex and varied needs of the target populations in a comprehensive, holistic manner. These needs have been categorized as:

1. Biological/physical (e.g., detoxification, dietary, obstetrical);
2. Psychological (e.g., support, treatment for anxiety, depression, low self-esteem);
3. Instrumental (e.g., child care and transportation to facilitate the receipt of services, housing); and
4. Informational and educational (e.g., parenting, requirements for prenatal and postpartum health including the effects of substance use).

OSAP is seeking to fund projects that create, expand, augment or coordinate a comprehensive services delivery system that can meet the multiple needs of these target populations. All projects will be expected to have a well developed evaluation plan that is derived from the service activities of the project. Support may be requested for up to five years.

The Honorable Buddy Roemer

Dear Governor Roemer:

The Office for Substance Abuse Prevention (OSAP) is pleased to announce the Community Youth Activity Demonstration Grant Program as authorized by the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-690) and to invite your State to submit an application for funds under this program.

The Community Youth Activity Demonstration Grant Program is a competitive program limited to the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. Applications for funds under this program may be made only by a single government agency designated by your office. The designated agency need not be the same as the one previously authorized to apply for Community Youth Activity Block Grant funds announced January 3, 1989, in a letter to your office from the Administrator of the Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration. It is important, however, that the block grant and the demonstration grant activities be coordinated at the State and local levels.

This program is intended to provide assistance to States for the purpose of establishing and evaluating innovative alcohol and other drug abuse prevention services for school-aged youth in communities where the need for such services is greatest. The program is also intended to encourage the formation of partnerships among local youth services and business organizations to achieve effective coordination and delivery of the proposed services.

The OSAP is authorized to make awards totalling approximately $10 million to States which successfully compete for grants under this program. Awards are expected to range from $100,000 to $500,000. These funds, once awarded to States, must be redistributed to subgrantee or contract organizations within local communities that will deliver the services for which support was requested. Each grantee is required to evaluate the impact of services supported by this program and may budget funds for this purpose. All other funds must be passed through to subgrantee or contract organizations for the support of services and activities outlined in the State's application.

Application materials, including a detailed announcement, are enclosed for your convenience. Completed applications must be received by May 15, 1989. Awards are expected to be issued in September 1989 to those States that successfully compete for funds under the Community Youth Activity Demonstration Grant Program. Further information about the grant program may be obtained from:

Programs of National Significance

Section 3521 (c) (2)of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (PL100-690) authorizes the Office of Substance Abuse Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services, Alcohol Drug Abuse and Mental Health Administration, to make contracts available providing for the establishment of projects designed to develop community-based activities targeted for youth. Such alcohol and other drug abuse prevention programs will be through national youth activities, education and recreation projects. The purpose of this contract is to stimulate and develop alcohol and other drug prevention components into existing youth serving organizations. The contractor(s) will demonstrate active involvement and commitment through its affiliates and chapters. Innovative community-based programs will be geographically dispersed to accomplish the goals of the national project.

A request for contractors will be announced in mid-April. Potential applicants should request information from the contracts office, David Eskenazi, at 301-443-2696. Guidelines will be made available at that time. However, organizations and associations with an interest in Programs of National Significance should begin to examine program options and possible areas of development at this time. The timeline between application announcement and due date will be approximately 45 days.

The review process should take about two months, awarding of contracts will be available for start-up by Septemebr, 1989.

Drug Education and Prevention Relating to Youth Gangs

Subtitle B, chapter 1 of title III of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-690, sections 3501-3505) establishes a drug abuse education and prevention program relating to youth gangs.

The Act authorizes $15 million for fiscal year 1989 and such sums as may be necessary for each of fiscal years 1990 and 1991 to carry out the program.

For 1989, $15 million was appropriated.

The Act authorizes grants to, and contracts with, public and nonprofit private agencies, organizations (including community based organizations with demonstrated experience), institutions, and individuals for projects to prevent the participation of youth in gangs that engage in illicit drug-related activities; to promote involvement of youth in lawful activities; to prevent drug abuse by youth, educate youth about drug abuse, and refer for treatment and rehabilitation youth gang members who abuse drugs; to support outreach activities by law enforcement to youth gangs that commit drug crime; to inform gang members about the availability of treatment and rehabilitation services for drug abuse; to facilitate coordination among local school, juvenile justice, employment, social service, and drug treatment and rehabilitation agencies and programs to prevent the participation of youth in gangs that commit drug-related crimes; and for projects otherwise related to prevention of youth gang drug crime.

This program is being administered by the Administration for Children, Youth, and Families in the Office of Human Development Services, Department of Health and Human Services. Program for Runaway and Homeless Youth Subtitle B, chapter 2 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-690, sections 3511-3515) establishes a new drug abuse prevention program aimed at runaway and homeless youth.

The Act authorizes $15 million for fiscal year 1989 and such sums as may be necessary for each of fiscal years 1990 and 1991 to carry out this program. This authorization is subject to the limitation that funds are authorized for the program for a fiscal year only if the aggregate amount appropriated to carry out the Runaway and Homeless Youth Act (title III of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974, 42 U.S.C. 5701-5751) for such year is not less than the previous year's appropriation for that Act.

For 1989, $15 million was appropriated to carry out this new runaway and homeless youth program. Grants are authorized to public and private nonprofit agencies, organizations, and institutions to carry out research, demonstration and services projects to provide counseling to runaway youth and their families and to homeless youth to prevent or reduce the illicit use of drugs by such youth; to support peer counseling, community education, outreach, training, research, and services coordination related to illicit drug use by runaway and homeless youth; and to provide runaway and homeless youth in rural areas assistance related to the illicit use of drugs.

Priority in awarding grants will be given to agencies and organizations that have experience in providing services to runaway and homeless youth.

Grants may be made for a 3-year period.

ACTION

Community-Based Volunteer Demonstration Projects for Drug Abuse Education and Prevention Services and Activities

ACTION is the Federal Domestic Volunteer Agency. The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (section 3401) authorizes the Director of ACTION to make grants to public and private nonprofit organizations for innovative, community-based volunteer demonstration projects which provide comprehensive drug abuse education and prevention services and activities to youth during summer months, with priority to projects that serve high-risk youth and provide opportunities to parent involvement.

The 1988 legislation authorizes $4 million for fiscal year 1989 and $5 million a year for fiscal years 1990 and 1991 for drug abuse prevention under the Domestic Volunteer Service Act. Between 15 and 25 percent of these funds are earmarked for the community-based volunteer demonstration projects for drug abuse prevention activities authorized under the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988. Of the $4 million authorized for 1989, $2 million was appropriated to ACTION in the 1988 omnibus drug bill for substance abuse prevention and education activities.

In the February 21, 1989, Federal Register, ACTION announced the availability of funds during fiscal year 1989 for the summer youth illicit drug use prevention grants program established under the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988. THE ANTI-DRUG ABUSE ACT OF 1988, P.L. 100-690

OVERVIEW

1988 was another significant year for legislative efforts to control drug abuse and drug trafficking. For the second time in as many years, Congress enacted comprehensive legislation to address all aspects of the nation's drug problems, providing new tools and additional resources to combat international narcotics traffic, improve drug interdiction and law enforcement, and expand drug abuse treatment, prevention, and education.

Enactment of omnibus anti-drug legislation was the last major priority of the 100th Congress. Congress completed action on H.R. 5210, the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 on Saturday, October 22, 1988, in the waning hours of the 100th Congress. President Reagan signed H.R. 5210 into law (P.L. 100-690) on Friday, November 18, 1988.

As in 1986 when Congress enacted an omnibus drug package, passage of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 is a tribute to the bipartisan leadership in the House and the Senate. Once again, the House Democratic and Republican leadership initiated the drafting of this new drug bill. The Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control was again given the opportunity to play a unique role in the development of this legislation. The Committee served as a resource for the House leadership, the standing committees of the House and individual Members during the formulation of this measure and directly assisted the House leadership when H.R. 5210 was debated on the House floor.

The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986 (P.L. 99-570) provided for the first time a comprehensive legislative response to the crisis of drug abuse and drug trafficking affecting our nation. That historic legislation was a bold beginning toward the goal of establishing an effective national strategy to fight drugs, providing $1.6 billion in new Federal funds and a host of new legal tools for anti-drug efforts across the board. But Congress recognized that the 1986 Act was only a first step, that much more work remained.

Indeed the past two years have been disappointing from the standpoint of narcotics control. Despite the added resources and authorities in the 1986 law, drug problems have continued to grow.

The State Department's annual international narcotics control strategy reports confirm that the production of illicit narcotics crops aboard continues to escalate unabated and that the power of ruthless, international drug cartels threatens the survival of some fragile democratic governments in our hemisphere. The amount of illicit drugs crossing our borders continues to increase. Our cities, neighborhoods, and schools are inundated with drugs that are readily accessible, cheaper and more potent than ever before.

The demand for drug abuse treatment far exceeds the capacity of existing programs. Waiting lists are common. The lack of services is exacerbated further by the continuing "crack" cocaine epidemic and the growing problem of AIDS related to intravenous drug abuse.

Prevention and education offer the best hope for a long-term solution to drug abuse, but it will take years for these efforts to yield results.

Unlike 1986, when the cocaine overdose death of University of Maryland basketball star Len Bias shocked the nation into action, there was no single event in 1988 that triggered public outcry for stronger Federal efforts against drugs. Rather, a number of factors and trends seemed to sharpen the public's perceptions of, and concerns about, the drug problem.

The Select Committee's hearings in 1987 and 1988 documented several of these phenomena, for example: the growing number of seriously damaged babies born to cocaine-addicted mothers; the spread of AIDS via intravenous drug abuse, including the transmission of AIDS to the unborn; the increased violence of drug gangs fighting for control of profitable markets in urban neighborhoods; the growing involvement of youth in drug dealing; the public debate over legalization of drugs; the corruption and intimidation of public officials in Latin America and the Caribbean; and the brazen efforts of drug traffickers to intimidate U.S. law enforcement, symbolized by the assassination of Edward Byrne, a rookie New York City Police Officer, as he guarded the home of a key prosecution witness in a drug trial.

By the early part of 1988, all of these elements and more contributed to put drug abuse and drug trafficking at the top of the list of Americans' concerns, according to public opinion polls.

Against this backdrop of escalating drug problems and intensified public concern, House Speaker Jim Wright, on May 2, 1988, convened a meeting of House committee chairmen with jurisdiction over drug abuse and drug trafficking issues. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss additional measures the House could enact before the end of the 100th Congress that would build upon and improve the 1986 omnibus anti-drug package. Each committee chairman presented a short summary of pending legislation or issues under consideration in his committee that could be included in a new omnibus drug bill. The Speaker designated Majority Leader Thomas Foley to coordinate House efforts to write a new drug bill and to work closely with Republican Leader Robert Michel to develop a bipartisan consensus on this new legislation. A target date of June 21 was set for committees to report out the individual provisions they would recommend for inclusion in the omnibus measure.

On May 9, Speaker Wright issued a statement announcing the new steps underway in the House to address the drug problem. He said he had met with the chairmen of the committees of jurisdiction the week before and asked them "to expedite consideration of such new measures as recent experience shows to be needed." Further discussing the need for prompt action, he said:

> The menace of illegal drugs is growing worse. It endangers our schools, our workplaces, our streets, and sometimes our families. We must defend the American people against this scourge. We cannot sit by as the United States loses the war against drugs. The experience of the last two years has been helpful. We must build upon it.

Over the course of the next several weeks, the various standing committees involved in this process met to mark up and report legislative proposals for a comprehensive drug package. In keeping with leadership directives, an effort was made by the committees to work on a bipartisan basis in putting together their legislative recommendations. Many committees were able to report by the June 21 target date, but some of the panels dealing with highly controversial issues did not complete work on their proposals until just after the July 4 district work period.

During this same period of time, a parallel effort was underway by House Republicans to develop comprehensive anti-drug proposals. At the direction of House Minority Leader Robert Michel, the Republican Task Force on Drugs was formed in late March, a group of 55 Republican House Members representing every committee. On June 16, 1988, the Republican Task Force on Drugs introduced H.R. 4842, the Comprehensive Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988. This measure included recommendations for drug demand reduction and user accountability, drug law enforcement, international drug control and interdiction improvement. A number of these proposals were incorporated or modified by the standing committees during the process of marking up legislation for inclusion in the bipartisan, House leadership omnibus drug bill. Other highly controversial measures, such as the death penalty for drug kingpins and modification of the exclusionary rule were not approved at the committee level.

The weeks between the July 4 and the August district work periods were spent assembling a core omnibus drug bill from the recommendations proposed by the standing committees and the Republican Task Force on Drugs. During this period, the House leadership and the committees worked to resolve as many jurisdictional conflicts and policy differences as possible and to establish a bipartisan agreement on issues and procedures for floor debate.

On August 8, the Rules Committee met to consider the nearly 150 amendments filed on the omnibus drug package. The Committee granted a rule for the consideration of an omnibus anti-drug initiative on Wednesday, August 10, making in order only those amendments printed in the Committee report accompanying the proposed rule and any amendments offered by the Majority Leader after consultation with the Minority Leader.

On August 11, Majority Leader Foley and Minority Leader Michel introduced H.R. 5210, the bipartisan leadership drug bill entitled the Omnibus Drug Initiative Act of 1988. That same day the House approved H. Res. 521, the rule providing for consideration of H.R. 5210 by a vote of 363–41.

The House began floor consideration of H.R. 5210 upon its return from the August/Labor Day district work period. General debate on the bill occurred on Wednesday, September 7. The House considered amendments to the bill on September 8, 14, 15, 16 and 22. H.R. 5210, as amended, passed the House on September 22 by a vote of 375–30.

Throughout House consideration of the measure, Chairman Rangel assisted the Majority Leader in managing floor debate. Many other Select Committee members participated actively in the debate both in their capacity as members of the Select Committee and as members of standing committees of jurisdiction.

During the course of the floor debate, several members of the Select Committee offered amendments to the bill:

Mr. Rangel—life imprisonment without parole for drug-related killings (passed, but superceded under "king of the hill" rule by Mr. Gekas' death penalty amendment); user accountability substitute, with Mr. Dingell and Mr. Montgomery (failed).

Mr. Ortiz—to allow use of Justice Assets Forfeiture Fund to assist State and local penal facilities (failed).

Mr. Hughes—user accountability, with Mr. McCollum (passed); prohibited distribution of anabolic steroids (passed).

Mr. DioGuardi with Mr. Shaw—mandatory drug testing of certain federal probationers (passed).

Mr. Oxley—drug czar (passed, but superceded under "king of the hill" rule by Mr. Brooks' alternative amendment); operation sting amendments to money laundering offenses (passed).

Mr. Smith of Florida—amendment to the Pepper amendment authorizing Anti-Narcotics Model Community Assistance Demonstration Grants (passed).

In addition, the leadership en bloc amendment of non-controversial provisions, offered by Mr. Foley and Mr. Michel and adopted by the House, included several amendments by Select Committee Members:

Mr. DioGuardi—drug prevention in public housing.

Mr. Hughes—allowing use of some forfeited assets for U.S. Attorneys, Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Forces, Federal prison construction, and certain Drug Enforcement Administration programs; benefits for DEA personnel serving abroad.

Mr. Rangel—renaming the State and Local Narcotics Control Assistance Program after slain New York City Policeman Edward Byrne.

Mr. Dornan (with Mr. Wyden)—establishing the joint EPA/DEA Task force on clandestine drug laboratories.

Mr. Akaka—requiring DEA to prepare an environmental impact statement on the use of weed oil to eradicate marijuana in Hawaii.

In addition to the provisions highlighted above, the omnibus anti-drug bill passed by the House incorporated the substance of several legislative initiatives and concepts proposed by the Select Committee. These proposals included: H.R. 2453, the National Narcotics Leadership Act, to create a full-time, high-level, drug coordinator in the Executive Branch; H.R. 4811, the Local Drug Enforcement Enhancement Amendments of 1988, to reauthorize, increase and streamline law enforcement assistance to States and localities; H.R. 3292, the Intravenous Substance Abuse and AIDS Prevention Act of 1987, to provide funds for treatment of intravenous drug abusers and other activities to prevent the spread of AIDS via intravenous drug use; proposals to increase military assistance to Colombia to fight drug trafficking, and to allow Export-Import Bank financing for certain military equipment sales to democratic countries primarily to combat narco-traffickers; and a call for a Western Hemisphere drug summit meeting.

The Senate passed H.R. 5210, with amendments, on October 14. In lieu of a formal conference, the differences between the two versions of the bill were resolved through a series of informal negotiations among House and Senate Members, with a bicameral and bipartisan leadership panel serving as the ultimate arbiters of disputes that could not be reconciled by House and Senate negotiators. H.R. 5210 was passed in final form as the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 by both the House (346–11) and the Senate (voice vote) in the early morning hours of Saturday, October 22, 1988. The bill was signed into law (P.L. 100–690) by President Reagan on Friday, November 18, 1988.

In addition to new tools and resources for expanded anti-drug efforts in the traditional areas of drug demand and supply reduction, the law includes a number of "user accountability" provisions. Although some of the most controversial features of these amendments were modified or eliminated from the final Act, these new sanctions represent a different direction in Federal drug abuse prevention and control policy. These provisions will allow the denial of Federal benefits, including public housing, to drug users; require Federal contractors and grantees to maintain drug-free workplaces and subject them to penalties if they do not comply; permit the Justice Department to levy civil fines for possession of "personal use" amounts of drugs; and authorize a four-state pilot program to randomly test new driver's license applicants for illicit drug use and to deny driving privileges to those who test positive.

The bill also creates a Federal death penalty for certain drug-related killings. It mandates the appointment of a full-time, Cabinet-level Director of National Drug Control Policy—a so-called "Drug Czar"—to direct Federal drug policy development and implementation. Certain other controversial provisions adopted by one body or the other, such as drug testing and modification of the exclusionary rule, were dropped from the final legislation.

The Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 represents another significant step toward the creation of a comprehensive Federal anti-drug strategy. The Select Committee believes Congress must exercise careful and continuing oversight of this legislation to assure that it is carried out quickly and effectively and must be ready to provide additional resources and remedies as needed to sustain and improve Federal anti-drug efforts.

A summary of the bill's highlights, a title-by-title analysis and funding summaries of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 follow.
